New Jail Could Wreck County Budget

In recent weeks the Coffee County Commission has accepted the fact that it must build a new county jail, and the site most agreed on is New Brockton. The problem of financing the multi-million dollar facility has been discussed at length, and a method of financing has also been agreed on. However, the solution may all but shut down county services.

The commission has stated it will use monies in the Road and Bridge Fund for the major portion of the expense and cut out appropriations to various agencies to make up the difference. Both sources will cause problems to county government. The Road and Bridge Fund receives money from a 3 1/2 mills on property tax, and the fund is the only one in the county not earmarked for a specific use in any way. The name of the fund is misleading, as no money has to be spent on roads or bridges, and in recent years the fund has been used more as a rainy day fund to help balance other funds in the county.

For the past several years, a portion of the Road and Bridge Fund has been used to help finance the sheriff's department, which is financed primarily through revenue sharing money. If the Road and Bridge Fund is used, it will wipe out the fund to the point that the general fund would have to support the sheriff's department, and all appropriations would cease. The appropriations cut would include Pensions and Security-$750, Board of Education-$2,000, Human Resource-$5,300, R.C. & D.-$300, Southeast Mental Health-$4,250, Youth Services-$9,500, Soil Conservation-$9,000, Vivian B. Adams School-$1,000, Crosstrails Library-$10,681, Forestry-$17,120, Extension Service-$28,592, and Health Department-$16,728.

The sudden loss in Road and Bridge Funds would also affect the actual salary of the commission, as a portion of the salary is covered by money in the general fund, which came from Road and Bridge.

According to one county official, if the Road and Bridge Fund is used for financing a new jail, it would result in personnel cutbacks, services cutback and the stoppage of all unnecessary activity. Even with the new source of income being funneled toward the jail, it would fall short of actual funds needed, leaving the commission with a new question-where to get additional funds.

The most probable solution, although it has not been discussed, would be to up property tax millage to meet the need. This solution was thought to be illegal, due to a ceiling on raising the millage, but sources now report the commission may indeed up the millage.

The jail will be a topic of discussion at the next commission meeting on Monday, May 10, and the problem of financing will no doubt surface.

Butch Oggs Named To School Board

The Elba City Council met Monday evening with all members present except Councilman Ray Trammell. The meeting began at 6 p.m. and was adjourned before 7. Police Chief Dick Reeves presented the council with the first of a requested monthly breakdown of police department activities. The multi-paged report classified every activity investigated by the officers and gave a disposition (warrant signed, arrest made, complaint dismissed, etc.). Councilman Sonny Inman described it as very comprehensive and commended the chief on the report. He noted that now councilmen could tell citizens exactly what the police department was doing throughout the month. A resolution commending school board member Doug Martin for ten years of dedication was presented to the council and unanimously approved. Mayor Bob English stated that the actual resolution in display form would be presented to Martin on behalf of the council at the appropriate time.

A replacement for Martin on the city school board was discussed when English noted that Martin's term was expiring next month. English also explained to those present that council members had expressed a desire to name a person to the board who did not have a family member as an employee of the school, not so much that they would show partiality to the family member, but the feeling of the employee's peers that they were getting favored treatment. Also, he said the council wanted to name board members who had school age children or children soon to be school age.

English also explained that Alabama law requires that city board members live in the city limits. He said, "We have discussed at least one very good prospect for the office who was disqualified because he lived out of the city limits, even though his children attend the Elba schools. Councilman Wayland Sharpless expressed an opinion that anyone in the school district should be eligible to serve, and the law should be changed to read accordingly. He asked anyone English to check and determine if that could be done.

Following that discussion, Sharpless made a motion that Butch Oggs be appointed to the school board for a five year term. This was seconded by Councilman Cleo Hawkins and passed unanimously.

Mickey Murdock was appointed to the Elba Industrial Board on a motion by Councilman Charles Kennett. The appointment was to fill the unexpired term of Elizabeth Hornsby, who recently moved away.

Karen Grider, a student at Elba High School, addressed the council on behalf of the students who participated in National Leadership Day at City Hall recently. She expressed, on behalf of the group, appreciation for the efforts of the city officials and confidence in their abilities to lead Elba. Also, she gave council members a copy of several suggestions for improvements to the community. They included additional 4-way stops on the square; hand rails for senior citizens on the West and South sides of the square; additional entertainment for the local citizens, etc.

The proposal to increase the rent on the American Legion was again discussed. At the last meeting, Legion leaders had requested an increase in the $100 a year payment. It was pointed out that the city is presently spending $2,400 a year on insurance, maintenance, and utilities at the facility and Mayor English said, "In view of this, I don't recommend any more money."

Sharpless then asked for an update on the senior citizens' lunch program in operation at the facility and was told by English that Elba was serving 125 different people on the average each week, and that this was the lowest number in the entire Southeast Alabama Regional Planning Commission area. He said several problems contributed to this and probably the location of the facility contributed to this low turnout.

Mr. and Mrs. James Blair addressed the council and stated they were grateful for the co-operation they received from the city council in Elba. They noted they had a problem, and due to the city's help it was being corrected. The problem they mentioned was a sewer line stopped up under the street and backing sewage into their Sunset Boulevard home. Mrs. Blair said that coming from the North, she knew a politician who said the problem would be handled really meant you would never see him again. Yet in Elba, the same statement meant the problem would truly be handled, and she was grateful.

Bills totaling $11,121.19 were approved for payment. They included $5,000 for gasoline; $1,000 for plant mix to patch streets; and $1,000 insurance payments.

English reported that work was underway on mowing the right-of-ways on the main roads coming into town and other city street right-of-ways would be mowed as others were finished. He also said vacant lots would be cut when owners refused to do it themselves, and in accordance with city ordinances, the owner would be billed for the work.

McBride Is Injured in Auto Crash

Dorothy McBride, age 49, of Elba, was transferred to a Montgomery hospital last week for treatment of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Wednesday, April 28, near the Babble Community in Covington County.

The accident, which occurred at 4:39 p.m. on Highway 84, reportedly happened when a 1972 Buick in which Mrs. McBride was a passenger stopped to turn into the T-Grocery. A 1978 Ford, driven by a Louisiana man, was reported to be going around the Buick when a third car, behind the Ford, began to pass. When it attempted to pull back into the lane, the Ford struck the Buick in the rear. The third car did not stop at the scene.

Mrs. McBride was transported to Mizell Memorial Hospital by the Opp Rescue Squad and later taken to Montgomery. Driver of the car in which Mrs. McBride was a passenger was Melissa McBride of Elba.

Expansion Work At Elba General Hospital Nears Completion

County Women Urged To Participate In Upcoming Handgun Safety Course

The Coffee County Sheriff's Dept. will sponsor a handgun safety course for women on Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22, with a total of nine hours of classroom and actual firing range to be included.

"Not a week goes by that somebody doesn't call on the telephone and ask about getting a pistol for his wife," stated Sheriff Bruce Paul, "and several hundred women in the county already have pistol permits. The number of women in the county with access to handguns increases almost daily, and we must teach them how to handle the gun safely before a tragic accident occurs. This is why we decided to hold the course."

The course will consist of four hours of classroom instruction, which will include lessons on how to handle a gun safely, home safety, proper grip, proper sight alignment and how to fire the weapon. On Saturday, a five-hour course in the practical use of the handgun will be held. This program will consist of a live firing exercise at which the women will actually shoot their own handgun under expert supervision.

Conducting the course will be Tony and Eloise Stough, both of whom are GOING . . . GOING . . . a portion of County Road 25 located near Ino has fallen into a large washout that threatens to engulf the entire road. The road, now closed to traffic, will be repaired as soon as the Soil Conservation Department issues a work order on the project. The washout, approximately 50 yards long and 30 yards wide, was caused by erosion following heavy rains earlier this year. Work to be done includes filling up the gully with dirt, fluming, grassing and work underneath the current roadway to strengthen weak spots in the foundation.

WORK CONTINUES on the expansion at the Elba General Hospital and Nursing Home. The scene above is of an expansion on the rear of the hospital. The project is about 45 percent complete with final completion expected in early 1983. However, the 20 bed nursing home addition is expected to be ready sooner, and hospital officials are hoping to occupy that part of the facility with residents in September but no later than October.

A replacement for Martin on the city school board was discussed when English noted that Martin's term was expiring next month. English also explained to those present that council members had expressed a desire to name a person to the board who did not have a family member as an employee of the school, not so much that they would show partiality to the family member, but the feeling of the employee's peers that they were getting favored treatment. Commission Settles Out Of Court

An out of court settlement announced only hours before a Wednesday, May 5, court hearing with Circuit Judge Arthur Gamble has resulted in the dismissal of a suit seeking to force the Coffee County Commission to construct a jail in Enterprise.

The suit was filed over a year ago, and at that time an antiquated statute required a jail be located where court is held at least six months of the year. Numerous hearings were held concerning the suit with the commission finally opting to change the law which required the presence of a jail. The new law was enacted this spring and all but killed the purpose of the suit. The commission had already filed a motion for dismissal in the case and a favorable ruling was expected at Wednesday's hearing. However, a last minute settlement left no need for the hearing, as both sides agreed to the dismissal of the suit.

In the settlement, the county agreed to pay a reasonable attorney's fee ($4,000) and the plaintiff agreed to drop all action.

Hospital Board Holds Meeting With Potential Buyer

The Elba Hospital Board met Friday at 11 a.m. with an investor interested in purchasing the hospital and nursing home. The meeting Friday was the first time either party had seen the other, and as Richard Brockman, representing the group of doctors said, "We just wanted you to see that we have only four horns on our head."

Brockman asked the Board for permission to review the hospital books and talk with the auditing firm about the hospital's finances. When this was given permission to do this, Brockman said he would return to the Board within two weeks with a firm offer to lease or buy the facility. He indicated it would probably be better for all concerned if his group leased the facility, but he would know for sure within two weeks. He also said one of the doctors would come to Elba and meet with the local medical staff to insure they were agreeable to any change of ownership from the city to a private firm.

He also said they would bring in additional doctors if they worked out a long term agreement on the facility.

Chairman Drexel Cook explained to Brockman and his brokers that they were not trying to sell the hospital, but were respectfully listening to a proposal. He said that the entire board was made up of business people, and they had enough business sense to keep an open mind, but didn't want Brockman to get the impression that they would, would, or could sell the facility.

Cook said he felt the Board was listening to the proposal because they were interested in the long term health benefits to the people of the community. He noted that that was the main objective of the board and any decision they made would be based on that factor and that factor alone.

Next Tuesday night is the time for the town meeting with General Telephone folks at the Elba City Hall. They will be here at 7 p.m. to hear us out on our thoughts about telephone service. Speak up then or forever hold your peace.

The British got in the first tough lick in the Falkland Island dispute with the sinking of the Argentine cruiser with over 900 men aboard. Then the Argentine Air Force struck back and disabled a British ship that was the pride of the fleet. What will happen next is anyone's guess, and we sit with our fingers crossed.

The U.S. is siding with the English... and I guess if we were going to get involved on either side - and the U.S. usually does that - that was the best choice to make. We still sit with our fingers crossed.

Saturday afternoon we of editor lost a debate and went with No. 2 son (age 6) to Barbara Turner's Fun Time Fishing Hole to see Red Holland and allow No. 2 time to compare fishing skills with Channel 4's Red. Well, Red was sick and didn't show up - but we stayed around and Eric caught us some fish for supper. With Daddy paying the bill he would have "ayed longer, even though the "Fishing with Red" fan issued his chance to share some fishing skills with his idol.

Monday night the Elba City Council appointed a school board member and we think they did a good job. However, during their discussion they noted that one good prospective board member they had considered lived outside the city limits. They feel this is a prime reason for extending these imaginary lines. Many folks who consider themselves as living in Elba, spend their money in Elba, and are affected by decisions of elected officials, have no voice in the selection of these officials nor - as in the school board - have any chance for direct input into operation of the community. Let's get to work on this matter.

State politics are picking up and the main reason for this is the activity of former Governor George Wallace who has a barbecue scheduled for May 22 in Montgomery. Wallace has been telegraphing newspaper editors around the state for the past couple of weeks... we got our call on Tuesday of this week. This can only mean he will be a candidate for a fourth term. We have continuously said it wouldn't happen - but apparently we were wrong again. In fact we had bet 25 cents with a friend (make that former friend) that Wallace wouldn't run, and officially conceded our error after getting our call Tuesday. However, he gave us a chance to get even by commenting that the next governor would be Montgomery Mayor Emory Folmar. We took the bait and again bet a quarter Folmar wouldn't be elected.

Last week we voiced our opinion on the idea that the local city-owned hospital be sold to a private firm. We had already expressed this opinion to members of the hospital board, so it wasn't news to them. However, we feel the citizens of Elba should mention to city officials, hospital board members, etc., just what their feelings are on this matter. We know the personal feelings of most of these officials, but feel each and everyone will be responsive to the desires of the public in spite of whatever their personal opinion might be on the matter.

History of the Skinner Corporation

Throughout his career, the merchandising philosophy of O. G. Skinner, founder of the Skinner chain of furniture stores in Georgia, Alabama, and Florida, has been dominated by emphasis on volume buying, cutting personal contact with customers and percentage compensation for employees.

Skinner's has grown from a single store beginning in Selma in 1932, to its 27 store operations of today. Though Selma was the birthplace of the Skinner chain, the store was sold after a few years, and it was not until 1975 that a store was reopened in Selma. Skinner is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year.

Skinner recognized early in his career that expansion and growth were necessary to his policy of volume buying and selling. A second store was opened in Tallahassee in 1933, and he crossed the state line into West Point, Georgia, with his third store in 1934. Within the next two years further expansion into Georgia and Alabama was accomplished as stores were opened in La Grange, Opelika, and Alexander City.

From 1941-1952 Skinner's continued its expansion program with the addition of three stores near the Alabama-Georgia state line - Columbus, Roanoke, and Tuskegee.

South Alabama was the next thrust of the Skinner chain. In 1950, four stores were purchased from the

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I would like to congratulate the Alabama State Legislators and their staff for the great performance during this last session.

They almost made it legal to drive up to seventy miles per hour on the interstate highway system. I am surprised that they did not give us the choice of which side of the road to drive on. They sure considered the feelings of us drunk drivers and let us, or encouraged our ego to continue on its course of distraction.

I was pleased to see that they all had the small farmer in such high consideration. They have failed to tell us that they didn't even think of a small farmer until someone else mentioned them, but decided it would sound good to a lot of compassionate people. They really had the corporate and large land holders in mind.

They didn't forget the Judges, I am inclined to agree with Governor James that there might have been a deal. I feel sure that the Judges need a pay raise, but 18 percent is quite generous and 31 percent is unreasonable. I am sure the Judges work hard and probably have corns, but they are not visible.

This session seems to be as good or on par with the last three that this legislature has performed. With the education trust fund in operation for three years I guess it would be unreal to expect anything else. I would like for someone to explain to me what the duty of the Education Department is if it isn't youth services. Some of our youth have to be placed in a controlled environment and a small number of these are because of open youth services.

Yours truly,
Donald E. Jordan, Sr.

Dear Mr. Cox:
The members of the Elba Study Club appreciate the publicity that you gave to the celebration of the fifth anniversary of the club at the Elba Public Library on April 25, 1982.

The charter members of the club have seen the library grow from just a few books, to the large number of books, tapes and services available today. For several years the club sponsored a variety of projects to make money for the library. Each year books are given to the library as memorials for former club members, and members of their immediate families.

It is evident that the citizens of Elba are justly proud of their library by the contribution of $610 at the silver tea.

Sincerely,
Publicity Chairman

POET'S CORNER

"SPRING"

Spring is lots of flowers,
And lots of trees,
Like swans in a pond,
With a soft cool breeze.

Spring is bees and butterflies flying around,
Ants and grasshoppers,
Crawling on the ground.

Spring is the best season
that I like,
And it is very good,
For flying a kite.

So the next time,
You notice spring,
You can compare it to anything.

And while you are resting in the shade,
Don't forget to thank God.

For what he has made.

"EXCHANGE"

A little bird lay wounded on the ground early this morn';
He looked so strangely,
lonely, and so utterly forlorn.

He could not cry—could not complain,
And watching his quiet grief
Somehow my own cross lifted, and
There came blessed relief.

I nursed him tenderly until his wings could spread and soar,
I gave him life again, yet he left me so much more!

"Angels" To Be

Presented At

First Methodist

The Chorale Choir of the First United Methodist Church of Enterprise will present their children's musical, "Angels," Sunday night, May 9, at 7 p.m. at the Elba United Methodist Church.

"Angels," written by Cynthia Clawson and Ragan Courtney, is a musical of God's chosen messengers. The two main characters, Gabriel and Michael, suddenly appear at choir rehearsal and begin to tell the story of how they will relate God's message to his people over the centuries. Their involvement in creation, the life of Elijah, and the birth of Christ is portrayed in dialogue and song. The part of Gabriel and Michael are acted out by puppets.

The Enterprise choir is composed of 33 children in grades 3-6. The musical is under the direction of Mr. Jeff Hummel, Diocesan Minister of Music and assisted by Mrs. John Lowe.

Rev. John Carmichael, pastor of Elba United Methodist Church, cordially invited the public to attend.

She has been called of God to be a teacher in the body of Christ, teaching only what she walks personally. God has blessed her call with signs following. Sandra serves as a head counselor at New Jerusalem, U.S.A., where she ministers with and is a close friend of Myrtle Hutchinson, who also ministered to us recently. Sandra speaks often to Christians women's groups. Come and hear Mrs. Raffield. A nursery will be provided.

WHO IS OUR GOD? IS HE THE LIVING GOD?

"And God spoke all these words, saying, I am the Lord God, who have brought thee out of the land of Egypt. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. Thou shalt not make unto thee any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them; for I, the Lord thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me, and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments." Exodus 20:1-6

BIBLE VERSE

EHS Band Day Is Big Success

The Elba High School Band Boosters held their annual Band Day fund-raising Saturday, April 24. Together with members of the Marching Tigers the Boosters exceeded their goal of $10,000, leaving the band program with more than adequate funds to continue its superior tradition.

Band Day began Friday night with its second annual Womanless Beauty Pageant. With over 30 contestants, the evening was filled with hilarious entertainment that the whole town will be talking about for weeks to come. Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Vann English; other entertainment included music by the Elba Jazz Band, the FFA Quartet - Plus One - and Mr. Vann English.

Saturday was filled with many interesting activities, and there was never a dull moment, with bands playing, amusements and exhibits to keep spectators busy. The activities were held at the Elba High School gym and included such entertainment as a dunking machine, an old-fashioned photo booth, a thumb-print artist, bingo and a cake sale. Other exhibits and activities included an antique car show, helicopter and ballistics display, a Karate exhibition, a performance by the FFA quartet, an auction and a raffle. This year's raffle prize winners were Carl Kilcrease of Kinston, camera; Phillip Smith - Adopt-A-Doll; Scott English - ceiling fan; and Carol Dawkins - TV; all from Elba.

Of course the day would not have been complete without performances by the band. The band, consisting of 100 members, performed a variety of music, including symphonic and marching bands, and the newly formed Jazz Ensemble. Those who did not wish to eat the delicious pork barbecue could choose among hot dogs, popcorn and tempting cakes to satisfy their appetites.

"Band Day '82" was indeed well-planned and complete with all the necessities for a fun-filled day. Many citizens of Elba displayed their support by bringing a donation to the gym, by purchasing a barbecue plate, or with a pledge of some sort. Everyone who contributed time, effort and money to this most prosperous band day is greatly appreciated. Band Day has been held for

The American Legion and Auxiliary have selected one student for Girls' State and two students for Boys' State. Girls' State and Boys' State are organizations which promote learning the duties, privileges, and responsibilities of American citizens. Following the Senior High Student Council campaign speeches Friday morning, April 30, the 1982 senior class met in the auditorium during the first and second class periods. At this time Mr. Lamar Foley expressed appreciation on the school's behalf for the class's contributions toward renovation of the auditorium's stage. These funds were used to pay for a podium, curtains and painting.

Then the class discussed how they would spend money refunded by the Herff Jones Company for misprinted graduation invitations. They voted to have a class party.

"Your reference librarian can direct you to several excellent sources," says Bewley. "For example, one reference that is extremely valuable in this regard is the U.S. Department of Labor's 'Occupational Outlook Handbook.'"

Bewley points out that the "Occupational Outlook Handbook," which is revised every two years, contains a description of job duties, education and training requirements, employment outlook, earnings and working

SCA Honors ZCHS Secretary

BY: TERRI AMLONG
The Student Council Association of ZCHS recently honored Mrs. Lela Wilson, secretary of ZCHS, with a single, long-stemmed rose. The rose was given to Mrs. Wilson in honor of National Secretary Week.

Aside from simply answering the phone and always knowing a little something about everything, Mrs. Wilson also keeps books and records for every club or organization associated with the school. The list of jobs she does is unending, therefore, her job is never finished.

In connection with National Secretary Week, Mrs. Wilson recently traveled in Eufaula in Barbour County to attend a district secretarial meeting. The meeting included a luncheon, a business meeting, a speech made by the Superintendent of Barbour County, and entertainment. One function of this group of secretaries is to award a scholarship to some student in the district of schools.

At the end of the contest the winners were announced and Rhonda Baker won 1st place and Debra Thrasher won 2nd place. They both won a trophy for their accomplishments. Their sponsor is Mrs. Vernette Maddox, who teaches Business and Office Occupations at the Vocational School.

Coffee County Area Vocational School Team and they were chosen because of their short-hand ability and their desire to be in the contest. Rhonda and Debra had to take two letters dictated at 70 words per minute. They filled out a test sheet that had 130 blanks for short-hand forms that represented over 300 words.

In addition, part of the money raised will be used to go to the Beta Club Convention if the membership elects to attend.

FFA/FHA Visit At Auburn

BY: LISA TAYLOR and
The Zion Chapel High School FFA and FHA chapters recently attended VET/VO-AG/HOME-EC Day at Auburn University. They had a choice of attending the Vo-Ag portion or the home economics departments. Those interested in home economics saw a variety of demonstrations. In the clothing section, demonstrations were given on textile design, skill screening, balking, and block printing. A display of floor looms and frame looms for weaving were also shown. In the fashion section, retailing, exhibits of coordinating your wardrobe, and slides on high fashions were given.

In the textile testing lab, several types of testing machines were set up to test color fastness, durability, and flame resistance.

During the foods lab exhibitions, students were shown comparisons of generic, store, and name brand foods. One other comparison involved convenience foods. A filmstrip, "Eating to Stay Healthy," related how important it is to eat just the four basic food groups.

A trip was then made to the Home Management House on campus. This is a home where home economics majors must live for six weeks in their junior and senior years. They also toured the Child Study Facility.

Those students interested in vocational agriculture toured AG Hill. In the Veterinary Medicine Building they looked through microscopes at samples of blood,

Kim Dyess Wins Plant And Soil Science Exhibit

Kim Dyess, a senior at Zion Chapel High School, was recently awarded first place in the 4-H Plant & Soil Science Exhibit. Kim's arrangement consisted of soil types, seeds, plants, and their final harvest showing seeds plus soil do equal success.

Kim will represent Coffee County at the district contest that will be held at Troy State University in June. The county contest was held April 19, at the Extension Office in New Brockton.

THE FISHERS OF MEN

BY: STEVE MCCABROLL
People in all parts of the world, of all ages, and from all back grounds enjoy watching a good dramatic production, and most people, when given the chance, will take part in a production. Last November, Margaret Pryor and Dee Dee Pryor, both graduates of Zion Chapel and both students at Troy State, made it known that they were going to start a drama company whose main aim would be Christian productions for children.

The company got off to a good start in November with the first production, "The Fishers of Men," that starred the two girls. The company started by reading through scripts and then learning warm-up exercises, such as, a shuffle step.

DWAYNE CHANCELLOR WINS CHICKEN-QUE
BY: KIM DYESS
Dwayne Chancellor, a 10th grader at Zion Chapel, won 1st place in the senior division of the 4-H chicken-que contest.

The contest is an annual event. The supplies the contestants need are: grill, charcoal, lighter fluid, matches, small table, chair, utensils, apron, barbecue sauce, and basting sauce, etc. These supplies must be brought by the contestant. The 4-H club supplies the chickens. Each contestant cooks one chicken, cut into halves, within 2 1/2 hours. The judges then taste one piece of the chicken and choose the chicken which they think is best.

Dwayne will represent Coffee County at the district 4-H club contest that will be held at Troy State University in June.

ZC STUDENTS ATTEND CELEBRITY WEEKEND

BY: TERRI AMLONG
The big day began at 9:00 for several ZCHS students who attended the George Lindsey Celebrity weekend in Montgomery, AL. The first event of the day was a celebrity parade followed by a visit to the Montgomery Children's Zoo where lunch was provided. The next treat included a performance by Ronald McDonald and a visit by various stars who signed autographs for everyone.

On Sunday, the golf tournament was rained out. At 9:30 the group left Montgomery and went to Troy where a tour of Troy State University campus, the Baptist Children's Home, and downtown Troy awaited them. Following this the students were treated to lunch at Kentucky Fried Chicken before going home.

Those students attending from ZC were Peggy Johnson, Phillip Bess, Paul Cole, and lung, heart and muscle tissues. There was a television monitor that was big enough for approximately 150 people to watch at the same time.

In the radiology lab, there were x-rays taken of different sized animals. The students toured the Small Animal Clinic, which contained dogs, cats, owls, hawks, and a variety of other small animals. The most interesting thing the students saw was at the Large Animal Clinic. There was a live cow, weighing approximately one ton, that you could sit on, hand inside its body and touch its four stomachs. Also in this building the students saw cattle, pigs, horses, and a live elephant.

Lunch was provided at the Graves Amphitheater. The menu included barbecued chicken, rolls, baked beans, pickled eggs, and dill pickles. Several bands, and the Auburn Singers, provided entertainment during lunch.

AMDR0

There is a new fire ant bait on the market called AMDR0. This material gives a fairly quick kill on fire ants and generally it will take them a few months to come back. AMDR0 does not have any residual effect which means that in a few weeks or months the fire ants will be back with you.

AMDR0 is an effective material, but it is very expensive. It costs about $10 a pound. If you could get some of this and use it and be rid of the ants permanently, it would be a beautiful material. However, this is not the case.

There are other materials on the market such as Diazinon granules, liquid Diazinon and other fire ant baits which do not work as quickly but are effective. Keep some fresh material and use it around your home when needed. AMDR0 is being highly advertised at the present time. The advertising gives the impression that you will be rid of fire ants forever if you use it. I just don't want any of our folks to be misled into thinking that a small miracle has happened.

CAUTION

Last year Coffee County planted 43,000 acres of soybeans with an average of 25 bushels per acre. The year before the dry year we planted 41,000 acres with a 12 bushels per acre average.

We will probably plant somewhere between 35,000 and 50,000 acres this year depending on what the price does. In recent days the price has trended up. Several growers have told me if they can contract them for about $7 a bushel, they will go ahead and plant some.

One word of caution about varieties of soybeans and herbicides: The varieties Coker 156 and Tracy which may be planted in this area are very sensitive to Sencor and Lexone. If you plant either one of these two varieties do not use these herbicides because of the sensitivity of the beans. All soybeans are sensitive to these two herbicides to a degree. So follow directions carefully when you use these two excellent herbicides.

CATFISH GROWERS

We have a new quarterly leaflet called "Net Gains Newsletter." The letter is published by the Catfish Division of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation and the Extension Service at Auburn. This is an excellent newsletter written especially for Alabama fish farmers and pond owners.

If you would like to get on their mailing, let me know and I will send the folks your name and address.

HELP FOR ARTHRITIS

Sara Hutchinson has talked to me this week about the thousands of people in this county who are afflicted with arthritis. I am reminded of a conversation that Dr. E. L. Gibson and I had a few months back when he was complaining about arthritis. He told me that in his early years of practice he did not have as full an appreciation of the discomforts of arthritis as he does now.

Three sessions on arthritis will be held on Wednesday, May 19. The following session will be May 26 with the last class on June 2. Call someone and invite them to come to these sessions with you. If you need additional information on these classes, call Sara Hutchinson at 894-5596.

SELF-STUDY

Auburn University, including the Extension Division, is involved in a detailed self-study. Quite a large number of farmers in Coffee County will be receiving a questionnaire asking for their opinion regarding Auburn's agricultural programs.

Bikathon Scheduled In Elba May 8

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of young people in the United States. Mrs. Orla Farris, chairman for the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon in Elba, is asking the people of Elba to join in the fight against CF, by participating in the Bike-A-Thon to be held on May 8, at 9:00 a.m.

Every day, every five years, a child is born with Cystic Fibrosis. And every day, every eight hours, a child dies from Cystic Fibrosis.

What does this have to do with you? One in 20 Alabamians is an unknown carrier of the defective gene that causes Cystic Fibrosis. That is over 200,000 carriers in the state.

When a child is born with Cystic Fibrosis, chances are it will not be immediately detected. Often called "the great masquerader," Cystic Fibrosis mimics other ailments and digestive problems.

So as many as 40 to 50 percent of the individuals with Cystic Fibrosis are not diagnosed or sometimes misdiagnosed.

The goal of the Alabama Chapter, pursued through its care and education programs, is to lengthen and improve the quality of life for Cystic Fibrosis patients. You can help in this effort by contacting Mrs. Orla Farris, or Sue Farris, at 897-5341. Forms are also available at Elba schools.

A MOTHER'S PRAYER
Some of you don't have a mother. Those that have one can tell that she's a beautiful person. Nice, bright, lovable, and swell.

Who stuck beside you When times got rough. Who took you to school When you missed the bus.

Who nourished you with medicine Day in and day out. Who wiped your face When you began to pout.

Who took up for you When the bully came around. Who bought you ice cream Whenever you went to town.

When you stay out late And don't even call. Who's that weary person Just pacing up and down the hall.

People, you better love that woman Because it's a shame if you don't. Some people can love their mother But you know what they want.

They'll stand beside you Through thick and thin. And if you keep getting in trouble, They'll stand with you again.

But don't give her any trouble. Be nice through and through. Kiss your mother and tell her you love her. And always remember your mom loves you.

Well, it happened! The Elba High baseball team lost its season finale last Wednesday and ended the season with an 0-12 record—the first time I can remember an Elba team going winless in any sport. The winless season wasn't caused by any single problem. It was a combination of many, the biggest of which was the total lack of preseason practice. I've harped on that subject all season long, and won't do it again, but I do hope the 0-12 season will lead to some changes prior to next year.

The men's softball league opened its season last week, and it looks like a very balanced league all the way from top to bottom. For those of you thinking about going to a game, here is a short profile of every team:

Work Release—a good hitting team, fun to watch, could win a lot of games as season progresses;

Cook Chevrolet—this team looks like last year's Jaycees, is a competitive club with the ability to score a bunch of runs;

Elba Exchange Bank—a young club with speed to burn, can light up the scoreboard, but appears to be a defensive-minded outfit;

Fuller Brothers—picked up a lot of new players, should be much improved over last year, a good Class C team;

People's Bank—just about the same old bunch, has a hard hitting club and has some long knockers capable of hitting 'em out anywhere, just as good as ever;

Grimes Oil—no more the same old team to state every year, has a lot of new faces, could be a team to watch later in season;

Fuller Brothers—picked up a lot of new players, should be much improved over last year, a good Class C team;

ELBA PITCHER Rhett McCollough fires a strike as the Tigers battle to claim a win in high school baseball action.

Elba rally falls short,
Geneva wins 18-12

The Elba Tigers came roaring back from a 12-1 deficit to pull into a 12-12 tie after six innings, but Geneva broke loose to plate six runs in the seventh to claim an exciting 18-12 win last Wednesday in Elba.

The win ended the season for Elba and gave the Tigers a final record of 0-12.

Geneva scored first in the conference and area contest, but Elba came right back in the bottom of the opening frame to pull into a 1-1 tie. The Tigers' score came on a double by Ken Yelverton and a pair of fielders' choices. Geneva began to pull away in the third inning as they scored five runs, and the Panthers kept on going as they opened up six runs in the fourth. Geneva went scoreless in the sixth. However, Elba still wasn't through, and added three runs to pull into a 12-12 tie. The runs came when singles by Tim Williamson and Andy Hardwick put two men on and a walk to John Hudson loaded the bases. A walk to Emmanuel Fuller added another runner. Angelo Rudolph got two hits for Work Release.
